

2006 Teacher Training Workshop at Sedge Island NREC

The New Jersey Division of Fish & Wildlife offers an extraordinary learning experience for teachers at its Sedge Island Natural Resource Education Center (NREC). The focus of this 2-night workshop is to increase awareness and understanding of natural resource management and environmental issues facing New Jersey. Through hands-on activities and living a conservationist lifestyle, teachers will leave with a deeper understanding of the entire ecosystem and be able to incorporate that into the classroom.
